

WHO OWNS THE

An International Conference on Digital Assets, Data Philanthropy, and Public Benefit

May 14, 2015
9:00 am - 5:30 pm

Conference Focus

As countless social, commercial and civic transactions are rapidly moving to online platforms, and sensors in our houses, cars, and mobile devices send endless streams of data to servers around the world, discussions of “Big Data” have become commonplace. But what happens to the information once it leaves our fingertips or pockets? How is the data being used, who benefits, and what role do individual contributors of data play --wittingly or unwittingly-- in the revenue models that sustain the systems? The conference will bring together data scientists, elected officials, representatives of public agencies and advocacy organizations, and entrepreneurs from the United States and Europe.

#WhoOwnsData

Presenting Sponsors

Co-Sponsors

Publicity Partner

Agenda

9:00 Welcome: Antoine Petit, CEO, Inria; Costas Spanos, Director, CITRIS; and MarkoTurpeinen, EIT ICT Labs

9:15 Introduction: Camille Crittenden, Deputy Director, CITRIS

9:30 - 10:15 Keynote: Brewster Kahle, Founder and Digital Librarian, The Internet Archive
"Who Owns Culture? Internet Archive's Perspective"
Moderator: Ken Goldberg, UC Berkeley

10:15 - 10:30 Break

10:30 - 11:45 Panel 1: "Public Data & Private Interests"

- Tom Andriola, CIO, University of California
- Stéphane Grumbach, Senior Researcher, Inria
- Hanna Niemi-Hugaerts, Project Manager, CitySDK project, Forum Virium
- Brandie Nonnecke, Research & Development Manager, CITRIS (Panel Moderator)
- MacKenzie Smith, University Librarian, UC Davis

11:45 - 12:30 Lunch (Provided with registration)

12:30 - 1:45 Panel 2 "Privacy & Personal Data"

- Nicolas Anceaux, Researcher, Inria
- Stefano Foresti, UC Merced (Panel Moderator)
- Lise Getoor, UC Santa Cruz
- Kai Kuikkaniemi, Aalto University
- Greg Niemeyer, UC Berkeley

1:45 - 2:00 Break

2:00 - 3:15 Panel 3 "Data Philanthropy & Corporate Social Responsibility"

- Lucy Bernholz, Visiting Scholar, Center on Philanthropy and Civil Society, Stanford University
- Claude Kirchner, Senior Researcher, Inria
- Manas Mohapatra, Associate Director, Legal, Twitter
- Faris Natour, Director of Human Rights, Business for Social Responsibility (Panel Moderator)

3:15 - 4:00 Keynote: Francisco García Morán, Chief IT Advisor, European Commission
"A European Perspective on Ownership of Public Data and Publicly Funded Research Data"
Moderator: Valerie Issarny, Inria

4:00 Closing Remarks

4:15 - 5:30 Startup Showcase, Reception & Networking
Moderator: Aparna Sain, EIT ICT Labs